I wish to confirm my strong objection to the application by Dunecht Estates to build up to 2500 houses on the land currently being farmed by Whitestone Farm next to Mason Lodge South of the A944.

I have many reasons for this objection.

First of all the land is good agrible farmland, over the years many farms and steading have been lost to the development of Westhill there are other sites that should be considered before laying waste valuable land furthermore years ago when our family applied for a planning application in the Mason Lodge we were told on several occasion that this was greenbelt land which would never be built upon, it beggars believe this this policy can be overlooked to the highest bidder whenever new housing schemes are to be built.

The infrastructure in this area would not support this influx of individuals to the area, new schools/roads/services would also have to be considered. We have made several complaints regarding the safety of the roads in around the mason lodge this would only compact to the problem. This area is a serious accident waiting to happen so far nithingnhas been done to address this problem.

The other thing worth considering is the main oil/gas pipeline which lies through this area towards the pumping Station at garlogie. This i would assume would have to be diverted at a considerable cost.

Also in the fields behind mason lodge there was ancient human remains/tomb found by my grandfather and a neighbour, these used to be on display at marcial college and was noted as an area of historic interest.

Other residents in this area like myself object strongly to this planning application and the descimation of this countryside/green belt area. Westhill and the surrounding area are at maximum capacity now with the amount of new homes and industrial areas built as of late often ruining good working ground for the sake of greed and opportunity.
