Buchan Landward Sites Auchleuchries BU019

There was an application for this site (app/2017/2425) on 21st September 2017. It was recommended for refusal by both Buchan and Formartine .

Road access unsuitable

Loss of amenity for local community

No proven need for material to be extracted

This application was also taken to Scottish government on appeal (ppa-110-2359) which was also rejected dated 10th December 2018.

Road unsuitable, would have "an adverse impact on the safety of the route"

No proven need for extraction, estimated 1-2yrs supply to landbank over an extraction time of 8-15yrs. "Not satisfied that economic benefits outweighs risks to road safety and impacts on local community".

There was a large volume of valid objections to this planning application which the government also took into account.

This proposal still holds major concerns for all who live, work and travel in the Muirtack area and strongly feel after all rejections this development should no longer be a consideration.
